The rebels are reported to number three hundred men and more are joining them.

CHEESE PRICES ARE GIVEN A BIG BOOSTAppleton Sealer of Weights and Measures Gets After the Coal Dealers of City.

Appleton, Wis., Oct. 29.—What is believed to be a record price for ball-brown cheese was established here yesterday at the meeting of the Appleton Dairy Board of Trade, when 600 boxes were sold at 16 cents flat. This is the highest price ever received on the board in this county and prominent cheese-buyers here declare it is the highest price ever received in Wisconsin. The demand for this product is constantly increasing and the price for several months has been increasing week by week at the rate of a fraction of a cent. For weeks all of the cheese offered on the ball board here has been bought up promptly. Outagamie county is rapidly forcing to the front in the quantity of cheese made and as a result the prices of butter and milk are climbing, creamery selling here now at 35 and 40 cents a pound.

After Coal Men

Nicholas Stark, city sealer of weights and measures, yesterday on a crusade against Appleton coal dealers and two were landed in the meshes of the official. One box supposed to be three tons was weighed and lacked four hundred pounds of the required weight. Another load of two tons lacked about a hundred "pounds." Reports of false weights from coal dealers, meat market men and grocers have been numerous of late and the city administration has instructed Stark to wage a vigilant war and to prosecute in every instance where under-weight is discovered.

Look Over Road
John J. Beggs of Milwaukee, president of the local traction company, accompanied by Congressman Davidson of Oshkosh, and several Antigo capitalists, left Appleton yesterday for Antigo, where they took an automobile and were conveyed to Gardner dam on the Wolf river. NEW REBELLIONBRYAN WILL NOT
BE A CANDIDATE
AT CONVENTION

This is the Significant Statement of Norman E. Mack, Democratic National Chairman, for Associated Press.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—"I do not believe W. J. Bryan will be the next democratic candidate for president," declared Chairman Norman E. Mack of the democratic national committee.

In reply to the question as to whom he thought the next democratic candidate for the presidency would be, Mack declared that, due to his position, he could not play favorites.

"haven't you published the fact that Judge Harmon, governor of Ohio, would be your choice for the next president?" was asked.

"No," was the answer. "The speech, made in Dallas, and the pictures were published just as have been those of other prominent democrats. There is no doubt, however, that Harmon is growing as a democratic leader who won in a republican state. He is gathering more and more in popularity."

"But there is Marshall, governor of Indiana, who turned the same trick on the republicans in his state that Harmon did in Ohio. He, too, is coming ahead fast as a national figure."

Word from Nicaragua Shows Division of Present Republic Is Expected.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Neonah, Wis., Oct. 29.—To be in the midst of a big dynamite explosion and escaped unscathed, was the experience of William Baird. With a well-organized crew he went into the country and was asleep in a small shanty when another member of the crew prepared several sticks of the deadly explosive, left the building and locked the door on the outside. A spark from the stove lit the fuse and Baird was awakened by the sputtering of the burning fuse. Held a prisoner by the locked door, he turned his back and awaited what he expected to be a sure and terrible death. By a miraculously circumstance, the force of the terrible explosion was spent in an opposite direction and when the terror-stricken crew came to the shanty expecting to pick up Baird's remains or part of them, they were astonished when Baird walked out of the ruins of the shanty unharmed. His first remark was: "Gosh, I broke my old clay pipe."

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—The report that the revolutionary administration under General Estrada contemplates an early proclamation of independence of the Atlantic coast states of Nicaragua as a republic, seems to have basis in fact. The State department has received an official dispatch from Nicaragua to that general effect.

WILL DEPOSE TOWN
ASSESSORS AT ONCE

Several of the Town Assessors in Manitowoc County Are Reported to Be in Trouble.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Manitowoc, Wis., Oct. 29.—Several town assessors of the county may be deposed as result of the contemplated action of Assessment Sup. Stein in calling attention of the state tax commission to the nonpayment of the figures of assessment in those towns for the last half dozen years. The assessment supervisor complains that in several towns the assessors refuse to improve their assessment for fear of losing the election and he had told the tax commission that he cannot secure good results where officials of this kind are permitted to remain in office. The city of Manitowoc started the trouble by threatening to demand a reassessment of the county because the city now pays more than one-quarter of the total taxes.

Known in Manitowoc.

Otto Zindars, the Dovore marshal who was murdered in cold blood Tuesday morning, is a former Manitowoc county man, his home having been at Mishicot, where his parents still reside. Zindars was shot down while in company of a woman he is said to have arrested and the woman charges her divorced husband, Aug. Glencoe, with the crime. Zindars was for a time employed as a teacher ten years ago in this city, leaving here nine years ago.

WILL JANESEVILLE BE ON THE ROUTE?

PRESIDENT SURVEY DOES NOT REACH THIS CITY.

TALK OF THE NEW ROAD

Financial Circles Stirred by New Talk of Extension of the Chicago, Milwaukee and Gary Line.

While financial circles are much stirred by the announcement that through a combination between J. Pierpont Morgan and John R. Walsh, the latter's holdings in important railroads, about Chicago are to be transferred to Morgan's syndicate and that the proposed Gulf to Canada line is to be perfected, there remains a question whether Janesville will receive direct benefit from the move.

Several years ago a survey was run south of Janesville, through Beloit, from Milwaukee to Rockford. From Rockford the line runs to Monee, Joliet, Aurora, DeKalb and then to Gary, Indiana. This section is complete while the line north from Rockford is merely on paper.

Just before the panic of 1903 it was reported that the promoters of the line were considering a detour so as to include Janesville, which would mean some twelve miles longer trackage. Since then only rumors have been heard and nothing definite known until it was announced that Walsh and Morgan had combined their holdings and the road would be completed.

William George Brice of Milwaukee, who keeps watch of Milwaukee interests for that city, writes of the proposed route and its benefits as follows:

"The new Morgan-Walsh compact by which it is expected to create a through line from New Orleans to Canada, will be of great importance in the railroad world, is especially valuable in affording larger business and better traffic facilities to Milwaukee. The new connection from New Orleans establishes a direct route for cotton to the northwest and to the orient via the Hill steamship lines, a connection which was impossible with the Illinois Central which used to feed Harriman's southern lines. This traffic will pass around Chicago and avoid congestion passing to the Twin cities via the Wisconsin Central."

"With the Gary belt line established, Milwaukee will have new outlets to the north and south and greatly improved facilities for handling freight with direct connections to points along the new system.

"It is reasonable to assume that any through system between the north and the south which utilizes any one of the lines traversing Wisconsin should include Milwaukee, which is the most important shipping center of the state."

"That these plans eventually will make an important addition to the city's transportation facility is certain and should be hailed as one of the things that will make for Milwaukee's future."

Late Word.

"Upon the heels of the announcement that the Chicago and North-Western is to spend $5,000,000 between Milwaukee and Clyman and for terminals and yards in the vicinity of Butler, comes the news that Milwaukee within a short time practically will have a direct route to New Orleans and a direct route to the mammoth Canadian northwest, via Winona.

J. Pierpont Morgan, through the United States Steel corporation, has come to the rescue of John R. Walsh in his railroad tangle, and by so doing he has practically provided a new line of railroad directly connecting New Orleans with the Canadian northwest.

Meaning to Milwaukee.

"Through the Chicago, Milwaukee and Gary line, which is being built, Milwaukee will directly enjoy all advantages to be derived from the new Canada-New Orleans line."

"The Chicago, Milwaukee and Gary practically is a belt line running from Gary, Ind., through Monee, Joliet, Aurora, DeKalb, Rockford, Beloit to Milwaukee."

"The advantages of this line to Milwaukee readily will be seen when it is realized that it crosses every railroad running into Chicago, the great railroad center of the west. To these advantages add direct route to New Orleans and to the Canadian northwest, via the Soo (Wisconsin Central) and the Canadian Pacific, and it is clear just what this new Morgan deal in aid of Walsh means to Milwaukee."

New Route Outlined.

"The complete new New Orleans to Canada route will be as follows:

"Winnipeg to Portage Junction via St. Paul, the Canadian Pacific; from Portage Junction to Portage Soo (Wisconsin Central) and also into Milwaukee over the Soo, Chicago and Northwestern, or Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul; from Portage to Beloit, however, over new route, line to be built; from Beloit to Dolmar, Chicago, Milwaukee and Gary; from Dolmar to Linton, Southern Indiana road; from Linton to Evansville, fifty-five miles, line to be rebuilt; from Evansville to New Orleans, the Louisville and Nashville."

"As set forth, Milwaukee taps this great north and south artery of transportation by means of the Chicago, Milwaukee and Gary."

In order to take advantage of this proposed road, which would do much to cheapen freight rates for Janesville manufacturers and also give them a new territory for the sale of their products, it would seem to be the work of the Commercial club to raise the necessary funds for the employing of a good, live secretary to take up the handling of this business is imperative.

PIONEER RESIDENT OF ROCK CO. PASSED AWAY LAST EVENING

John E. Gleason, Prominent in Public Life, Died at His Home in La Prairie.

John E. Gleason, one of the best known citizens and a pioneer resident of Rock county, died last evening about nine o'clock at his home in the town of La Prairie. Mr. Gleason was about seventy-four years of age and was one of the most influential citizens of the town of La Prairie. He was intimately associated with its of local history and zealous in the promotion of all enterprises for the public welfare. For a number of years he was chairman of the town board of supervisors and also served on the county board and also served the town as school director, school treasurer and clerk. For eight years he was president of the Rock County Agricultural society. He was a member of Jamesville Lodge, No. 55, F. & A. M.

Mr. Gleason was born in Charlotte, Chautauque county, New York, January 19, 1830. He was reared in New York and attended the common schools there. At the age of twenty he came west to seek his fortune and reached Janesville, March 23, 1856. He started to work as a farm hand in Harmony township, but after three years purchased forty acres of land in La Prairie township. He prospered and purchased more, increasing the size of his farm to 200 acres, and was ranked as one of the most successful and progressive farmers in the township.

On February 29, 1860, Mr. Gleason was married to Miss Achiah Goodson. Mrs. Gleason died June 30, 1898. To them were born five children, all of whom are now living. They are: Miss Alvina C. Gleason, who has made her home with her father; Urban Gleason of La Prairie; Mrs. B. M. Stewart of Salt Lake City, Mrs. Edward Paul of Janesville, and William Gleason of La Prairie.

The funeral will be held Monday, Nov. 1, at 1:30 p. m. from the home. Interment will take place in Oak Hill cemetery.

PENNY WELL SPENT IN A GOOD CAUSE

Enormous Profit From Insignificant Investment in Crusade on Consumption.

That the penny spent for a Christmas stamp sold by the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association last year has resulted in an enormous profit on an insignificant investment, is proven by the health records of Wisconsin, as indicated by a bulletin just issued by the bureau of vital statistics of the census bureau. The mortality from consumption has decreased to a surprising extent because the people of Wisconsin are being awakened to the methods for the care and prevention of tuberculosis through organized effort, the report says. The prediction of medical men that consumption can be stamped out in Wisconsin in ten years' time is sure to be fully realized.

"Organized effort" means the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, which was formed by leading medical, business and professional men who had no interest other than the saving of the lives of those people who could not or did not know how to help themselves. They gave their time and money freely in a worthy cause.

But those comparatively few men could not be expected to be the sole support of the movement in a financial way, so the association adopted the Christmas stamp idea of raising funds, penny by penny. In this manner even the poorest person, a class most affected by the white plague, could contribute his or her mite to help the fight.

The money thus raised has been and is being devoted to a most worthy work, as proof of which only the health records need be examined. But the work has only begun and more funds are needed. The association has therefore decided to again sell stamps, but of an exclusively Wisconsin design, better for the practical use of these stickers on letters and packages sent during the holiday season.

The campaign opens Nov. 29 and closes at midnight, Dec. 31. Three million stamps must be sold this year. Every person in Wisconsin is asked to assist. Those who gave those unselfish and loyal aid last year have again come forward, but the ground is not yet thoroughly covered. Stanley A. Douglass, campaign manager, 411 Goldsmith building, Milwaukee, is appealing for a general support, especially in those places which could not be reached last year because of lack of facilities, and the Gazette will be glad to furnish all stamps ordered for Janesville.

SAMPLING OF CROP VERY SATISFACTORY

Percentage of Damage to '08 Packings Through Sweating Much Lower Than Is Usual.

The results secured through the sampling of the '08 crop, which is now well under way, have proven very satisfactory to packers, says the Edgerton Tobacco Reporter. The percentage of damage sustained in the sweating process will fall much below that of recent years, and it is an agreeable surprise to many. Aside from an occasional bit of black rot there is very little found to be classified as damage. Even the shorts and low grades came through remarkably free from imperfections. The must and mold infections, which cut so large a figure in '07 to '07 crops, rather unexpectedly do not appear in the '08, and the absence of this trouble is chargeable to the fact that the crop was a dry weather one and allowed to thoroughly ripen before being harvested. It has come to be a generally accepted theory that immature tobacco is the cause of the mold damage that so frequently affects the leaf in the curing and responsible for quite severe losses some years. The '08 tobacco has also taken a good strong start and put up maddy for filler purposes and is in better condition for the manufacturer's table than usual at this date. These are doubtless some quiet times this week, while there is the center of the stage when buyers the new crop, a little buying in all come into the market. The supply, the time being done, when prices can be limited and promises soon to be broken up, as probably 40 per cent of the crop will grade as shorts.

We learn that contracts for over fifty acres were placed, ranging from 8 to 9 cents, last week.

The market for old leaf has brought to light but little news. Buyers no summer days, we have had some hard freezes nights and the temperature much too low for the satisfactory curing of the late harvested tobacco. An unusually cool October has made slow curing of the crop.

LEAVES TOMORROW; RETURNS TO WORK

JOHN E. ENRIGHT HAS RESPONSIBLE PLACE IN PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

IN CIVIL SERVICE DEPT'

Janesville Man Who Has Risen to Place of Prominence in Uncle Sam's New Domain.

John E. Enright, one of Janesville's former residents who has made a name for himself in the world of politics and business, leaves tomorrow for Manila, P. I., to assume his new duties as Assistant Chief of the Bureau of Civil Service of the Philippines, after a visit of several months in Janesville.

Mr. Enright left Janesville a dozen years ago and in 1890 went to the Philippines as a private in the Fifth United States Infantry. Originally destined to take part in the relief of Peking, Mr. Enright's regiment learned that others had done the work and was sent to Manila. Mr. Enright had enlisted on the 14th of June of the same year for this expedition.

After serving one year with his regiment in the Islands, Enright was given on his discharge, having successfully passed the first civil service examination ever held in the Philippines and receiving the first civil service appointment under the American government for the Islands. His work brought him in close touch with President Taft, then in charge of the Islands, and later he became Secretary whether the Japanese wished to purchase or capture the Islands, Mr. Enright said: "I think that Japan would like the Islands for colonization purposes, but I do not think they would every make any attempt to capture them. They might like to purchase them, but the talk of a Japanese being laughed at throughout the East. The Japanese, of course are watching carefully all innovations the Americans are doing and their Consuls are busy getting data for the home government as to improvements, fortifications and so forth, but nothing is feared from this source."

Mr. Enright leaves tomorrow for Chicago and will go west to Los Angeles, California, over the Santa Fe, on the 16th of November to sail from San Francisco on the Steamship "Silverton," arriving in Manila on December 12th. The "Silverton" will stop at Honolulu, Yokohama, Nagasaki, Shanghai and Hongkong.

This is Mr. Enright's second leave of absence since he went to Manila in 1900 and in all he has had a year of during his nine years of service. He was offered a position in Washington of considerable importance, but preferred to return to the Philippines. His experience for three and a half years as Secretary to Governor General Smith and his five years in the civil service department in various important positions have fitted him for his present place of prominence.

While on his vacation this year he has spent most of his time in Janesville visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Enright, 514 North Bluff street, but has been in Washington and was a guest of President Taft at his summer home in Beverly for a day during July.

to Governor General James F. Smith. In this capacity he came in touch with many of the leading Americans who visited the Islands and also the diplomatic corps, being a member of the Governor General's household and aiding him in entertaining the guests of honor. He left the Islands some months ago on a leave of absence and upon his return assumed his new duties as Assistant Chief of the Civil Service Bureau, one of the most important positions in the Philippine government.

The Bureau of Civil Service has absolute control of the vast army of employees of the government in the Philippines. The three thousand American employees of the various offices, the eight hundred American teachers and the four thousand native school teachers are all directly controlled through Mr. Enright's office.

In speaking of the Islands and the work there Mr. Enright said today: "I can see a wonderful difference in the years I have been there. Then it was difficult to make yourself understood in traveling from one province to another. The language of the natives was different in each province. Now English is taught in all the schools. There are four hundred thousand young Filipinos in the schools and teaching them are some eight hundred American teachers, employed as superintendents and instructors in the high schools and normal schools and a force of four thousand native teachers."

"There are four hundred thousand other native boys and girls who can not go to school owing to the lack of facilities. The educational problem is the salvation of the Islands. One hears the English spoken everywhere and the rising generation will do much to bridge the racial differences that have existed in the past."

"In Manila we have large colonies of English; those compose the leading merchant class; a German colony, a Swiss colony, an East Indian colony, Portuguese and Syrians. Then there are twenty thousand Chinese in the city and scattered through the islands are as many more. Quite a proportion of a population of 250,000. Of course the Americans predominate, and there are some Japanese, but these are of the urban class."

"One of our great institutions is the bureau of printing. This is in charge of John S. Lynch, for a short time head of the department of printing at Washington. This is the most complete of any printing office outside of the United States and you would be surprised to see the work done there. There are some eighteen supervisorys of the different departments—Americans thoroughly posted in the business—and the rest of the work is done by Filipino apprentices."

"The cut which is used in this article was made for Mr. Enright by a Filipino apprentice and shows the work they are doing and being taught by the government."

"Those apprentices receive a salary for four years during the time they are given to learn the trade, and a bonus is offered them for good work extra, so that when they have learned their trade they have a nice lump sum of money coming to them. They can continue in the government service at a good wage or start out for themselves."

THE INLAND PRESS
The Inland Press association, organized some 25 years ago, has today a membership of about 100, representing as many publishers in inland cities of the middle west. It is a business organization and politics has been ignored until the last quarterly meeting held in Chicago, a few days ago, when less than 20 per cent of the members were present.

The price of print paper was up for discussion and Congressman Mann, the insurgent member from Illinois, was invited to address the meeting. John Norris of the free trade journal, the New York Times, and Medill McCormick of the ungrateful Chicago Tribune were also present, and while not members of the association, succeeded in capturing it by a resolution denouncing President Taft for his attitude on the paper tariff.

Mr. Brant of the Iowa City Republican withdrew his paper from the organization, and several other members left the meeting in disgust, as they refused to be party to insulting the president, but word has gone out over the country to the effect that the Inland Press association is not in harmony with the administration.

This is a libel on a group of papers in the middle west which have persistently and consistently stood for the principle of protection, and who did not join in the demand of free trade publishers for a reduction in the tariff on print paper.

The argument used by these loyal publishers was that it was inadmissible to ask for tariff revision on paper, until the tariff was generally revised, and this was the position taken by more than three-fourths of the publishers of the country.

The Mann-Norris combination is an aggregation of democratic-free trade insurgents composition, which in no way represents the sentiments of the American press. President Taft has the loyal support of the publishers of the country, with only here and there a disgruntled Collier's, Harper's and Chicago Tribune rattling around like a dry pea in a pod attempting to attract attention and create a disturbance.

His administration is too young to criticize, and every publisher possessing a moderate degree of fairness can afford to withhold criticism and give the man a chance. The first duty of the Inland Press association is to correct the false impression which has gone out as the result of designing interference.

THE AFTERMATH

The November number of Physical Culture had an illustrated article on the Mexican bull fight, which has this to say about the aftermath:

"A bull fight! One who has never witnessed such a spectacle cannot realize the intensity of excitement it produces on the temperament of the Mexican. More stirring to its devotees than whiskey, opium or morphine, it intoxicates them to such a degree that only the sight of blood can apprise the tension to which the nervous system has gradually been wrought up. 'Sangre'—blood, and always more blood. The bulls that have been killed in the ring find a good purchaser."

"The government buys their carcasses and serves the meat to the criminals who happen to be locked up in the jails of Mexico City. And a savory and healthful dish it just makes, when one stops to consider that, before being killed, the bull has undergone much rough treatment, in which he had occasion to grow ravaging mad—its blood must, certainly have turned into poison in the ring. Here we have a splendid field for a scientist to study the effects of poisoned bull meat on the system, and the consequent degeneracy and delinquency frequently observed in the Mexican lower classes."

This is a side of the question not usually considered. The brutality of the bull ring is so disgusting that it has never become a popular amusement in this country, but it captivates the Mexican. The meat from the animals slaughtered would hardly be considered a savory morsel, but is eagerly sought for by the natives across the border.

SOUND AND SANE

Here is ex-Governor Hoard's tribute to the president:

"President Taft is a straight, square man. He does not expect to agree with every man or be agreed with, but he plays open and fair and he never abuses other men for disagreeing with him." The Sun Francisco Argonaut, who does not always see things in just the same light as the president does has theendor and fulness however to say this:

"Truly it is a blessing to have in the presidential office a man whose methods match the gravity of his purposes, a man who works by reason, persuasion, and cooperation rather than through the melodramatic processes of contention, passion and evil declaim."

"Compare this estimate, made by a so-called 'progressive' paper, with the methods pursued by Senator La Follette for instance, in his attacks on the president. Here we have but very little else than 'contention, passion and evil declaim.' And we are told that the constant scolding, wrangling and fault finding is the very essence of modern statesmanship."

"Abraham Lincoln met with just such opposition. There were plenty of men who denounced him and who declared that he was a traitor to his country. Ohio furnished two eminent men who called him all sorts of names, one a republican and the other a democrat, Ben Wade and Vandenberg. But nobody today believes that either had any right to talk as they did. The sober second thought of the people will come to the same conclusion concerning the men who are howling the roof off about President Taft. He is an honest man, too honest to hate and abuse people because they do not agree with him on matters of public policy. Probably it will be too much to hope for that Wisconsin will have any let-up to this game of futillo politics for some time to come, but there are a lot of people who are getting tired of it."

This is the doctrine of loyalty and while Governor Hoard is being criticized by his political associates of recent years, his old-time friends are with him for the sentiment expressed is not only sound and sane, but rings true to the principles of the republican party.

The sober second thought of the people is usually right on all propositions, and the moderation now going on will result in holding the nation steady against the onslaught of designing insurgents and ambitious politicians.

Steamboat navigation on the Mississippi was never noted for scheduled time, and the president and his party discovered that the service as well as the waterways need improving. The southern people are good-natured, but when they prepare to entertain the president they don't want to spend the time on the dock, waiting for hours for the float arrival, and this has been the common experience.

Rockefeller's latest gift of a million dollars, to fight the hookworm scourge in the south, is a deed of philanthropy, which will be fully appreciated by the southern people. Money in liberal amounts is necessary to carry on a campaign against diseases of this nature and it is well for the people that men of wealth are liberally inclined.

Have you signed the commission plan of government petition? If not, and you favor the plan, don't fail to do so. They may be found at all the banks and druggists. They simply provide for an opportunity for the people to vote on the proposition at a special election.

La Follette is out after "Uncle Joe" Cannon's scalp and is confident that he will capture it. He says that "his utterances are the snarling of a grizzled wolf who hears the beaters in the woods and sneaks them from afar." "Uncle Joe" is not particularly disturbed by the voice of the insurgent beaters.

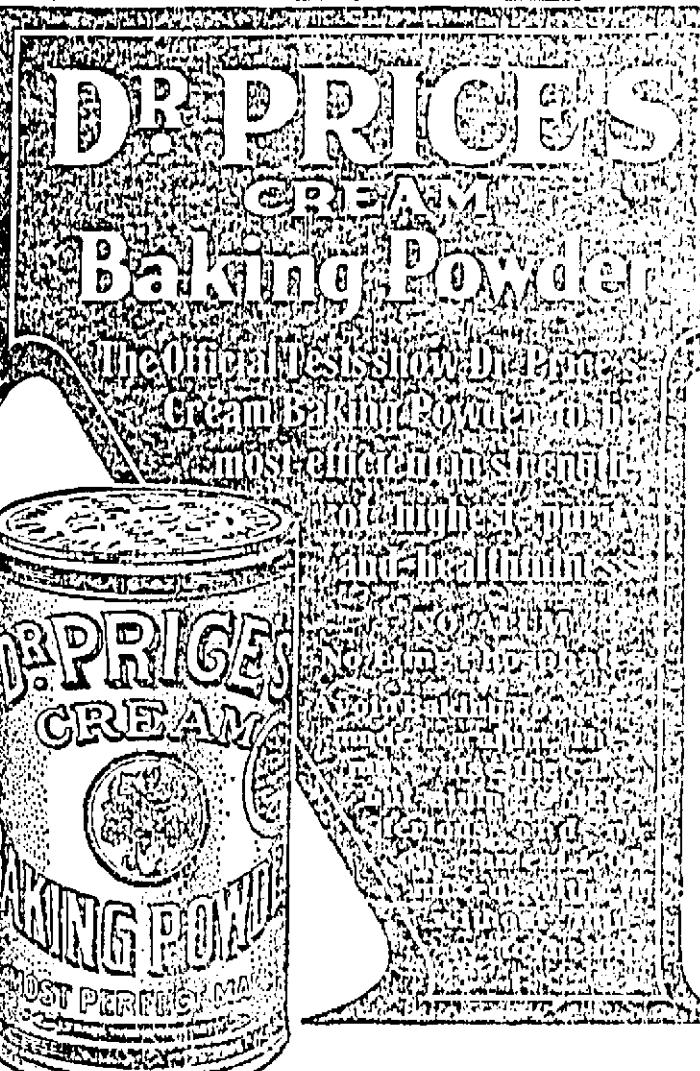

PRESS COMMENT.

Schlesinger Press: Men of integrity who place honor above party and find pleasure in serving the people are the class of public servants that are in demand today.

Eau Claire Leader: What's the matter with Wisconsin? With hold-ups, bank robberies and unspeakable crimes the good old commonwealth is getting a bad name these days.

Waunau Record-Herald: Perhaps the women will have to take up this bank robbery detective business. Armed with batons they would be more effective than some of these "armed posse's" which have been scouring the country.

Starke Eagle-Star: The national dairy show has decided to locate permanently in Milwaukee. The people of Milwaukee got it by attending the show in large numbers. The metropolis of Wisconsin is now the home of milk as well as beer.

Racine Journal: Carl Countryman in an address before the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. spoke on civic conscience, saying the tendency of citizens to disregard laws and ordinances was responsible for anarchical conditions and created anarchy. The glaring disregard of city laws is especially noticeable.

Beloit News: Discussing the suit brought by the Stephenson forces to have the primary election law declared unconstitutional, the Milwaukee Daily News thinks the supreme court is not going to do anything like that and get itself mixed up in factional politics. Well, had anyone expected it would?

Green Bay Gazette: Evidently Wisconsin is in an extremely prosperous condition. The banks are loaded with funds and thus are tempting the bank robbers to renewed activity. Nowhere else in the union have so many bank robberies taken place in such a short length of time.

The "Treachery" Bible. The Treachery Bible got its name from its rendering of Jeremiah viii, 22: "Is there no treachery in Gil-ead," instead of bala in Gil-ead. It was printed in 1588. The same text was rendered in the Douay version, 1609: "Is there no rosin in Gil-ead?" This Bible was called the Rosin Bible.

HILL'S PROPHETIC NOT ENCOURAGING

RAILROAD PRESIDENT PREDICTS HIGH PRICE OF FOOD WILL CONTINUE.

SUPPLY SHORTAGE BEGUN

URGES MODEL FARMS AND INTENSIFIED AGRICULTURE—SHOWS GOVERNMENT COULD RUN THOUSAND TRAINING SCHOOLS FOR PRICE OF ONE WARSHIP.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—James J. Hill, the great builder of railroads, declares the consumption of the foodstuffs of this country is fast outstripping its production and that prices for things to eat will keep on soaring.

Shortage Has Begun.

"As far as our food supply is concerned, right now the lean years have begun," he writes in an article on "What Must We Do To Be Fed" in the World's Works for November. "We have to provide for a contingency not distant from us by nearly a generation, but already present. The food conditions press upon us now. The shortage has begun."

The great northwest, whose gigantic granaries Mr. Hill's railroads opened to the world, are no longer capable of feeding the rapidly growing population of the remainder of the United States, according to Mr. Hill's observations, unless the methods of farming are improved.

EDUCATION AND SMALL FARMS. The chief remedy is agricultural education, and he recommends governmental establishment of model farms throughout the rural districts. These he declares could be established at a cost of $5,000 each—or 1,000 for less than the cost of a battleship.

He also urges a change in the homestead laws, so that only actual homesteaders can secure government lands. Further advantage he sees in the breaking up of large farms, and the establishment of small farms upon which the intensive methods of European agriculture would more than double the present yields.

TELEPHONE COMPANIES MERGE

CONTINENTAL WILL HANDLE BUSINESS BETWEEN NEW YORK AND OMAHA.

New York, Oct. 20.—Officers of the Continental Telephone and Telegraph Company, a recently incorporated independent concern, with an authorized capital of $50,000,000, announced that they have purchased the property of the Independent Union Telephone and Telegraph Company, which operates telephone lines in a territory reaching from Newburgh, N. Y., on the east, to Erie, Pa., on the west.

The Continental company announces that it expects to take in several other independent lines between New York and Omaha, and plans to handle telegraph as well as telephone business over all their long-distance wires.

INVESTIGATE GUARANTY BANK

GRAND JURY ARE INQUIRING INTO AFFAIRS OF FAILED INSTITUTION.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 20.—Attorney General West began a grand jury investigation of the affairs of the Columbia Bank and Trust Company, which failed recently. The investigation followed a call by Mr. Young to the stockholders of the insolvent bank for additional funds with which to pay claims.

DECLARES FOR UNION OF FAITHS

BISHOP WOULD AMALGAMATE EPISCOPAL AND CONGREGATIONAL CHURCHES.

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 20.—After startling his auditors by declaring for the union of the Episcopal and Congregational churches in one Catholic and Apostolic faith, Bishop Hall of Vermont went on to say:

"In most cases there is no definite faith left and my proposition will be a revival of the one thing set up by the apostle of Christ as his creed. The Episcopal church stands ready to give up its 39 articles of religion and is further willing to give up its name of Episcopal and sink its identity in return for truth, simple and definite."

Other speakers who followed Bishop Hall, all members of the New England Episcopal Missionary conference which has been in session here for several days heartily agreed with the novel idea advanced by Dr. Hall and it was determined to hold conferences in many places in New England to discuss the proposed amalgamation and to discover if it is practical in all localities and likely of ultimate success.

LURTON LEADS FOR U. S. SUPREME COURT

NASHVILLE JURIST IS SAID TO HAVE THE BEST CHANCE—HE'S A FRIEND OF TAFT.

Washington, Oct. 20.—The subject of the gossip about the capital just at present is who will fill the vacancy on the United States supreme court bench made vacant by the death of Associate Justice Peckham.

It is popularly speaking, the most important matter which will confront President Taft upon his return to the national capital. Well-informed prophets here name Horace H. Lurton of Nashville, Judge of the United States circuit court in the Sixth circuit, as most probably Justice Peckham's successor, with Solicitor General Lloyd W. Bowers of the department of justice as the probability for the next vacancy in the court. Mr. Bowers is thought by many to stand a very good chance of getting this one.

Judge Lurton sat on the same judicial bench with Mr. Taft, and was the latter's choice for the vacancy that was later filled by the appointment of William H. Moody of Massachusetts. Mr. Taft was secretary of war when he made the recommendation of Mr. Lurton to President Roosevelt, and was, it is said, very much disappointed when his old associate and intimate friend was not appointed. Mr. Lurton is now about 62 years old and would have ten years to serve before retirement.

COOK DECLARES PLOT EXISTS

SAYS MUCH MONEY SPENT TO PLACE HIM IN BAD LIGHT.

Hamilton, Mont., Oct. 20.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook invaded the very hotbed of dispute on his ascent of Mount McKinley when he lectured here, Barrill, the guide, who has declared that the explorer never surmounted the Alaskan peak and has contradicted himself several times in his statements, came from Missoula to hear Dr. Cook, but made no reply to the declaration that he had sold himself to those who are trying to rob Dr. Cook of the glory of his achievements.

In a speech which attacked the backers of Commander Peary, Dr. Cook declared that he is the victim of a plot to dislodge both his claim for the north pole and his trip to Mount McKinley. While naming no one, the explorer was bitter in his denunciation of the men he charged with having aligned themselves in the fight against him and spent large amounts of money to place him in a bad light before the public.

Dr. Cook closed his speech by stating that he will again ascend Mount McKinley and bring back the records he declares he placed on the summit of the peak.

HARDEST TUSSEL OF SEASON FOR ELEVEN

JANESEVILLE HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL TEAM TO TACKLE STOUGHTON HIGH TOMORROW AT STOUGHTON.

A football contest, the outcome of which will be eagerly and anxiously waited for, is the game between Janeville high school and Stoughton high school at Stoughton tomorrow afternoon. The Stoughton team is sort of an unknown proposition and although the locals are aware that their opponents are very strong, they do not know what they can do. Prof. Knudson, however, thinks that the boys have a chance to win if they go into the game as they did last Saturday. Merrill, left halfback, who is suffering from a poisoned arm, will be unable to play and it may be that the boys will not feel so confident as they did last Saturday. Williams, who will substitute for Merrill, is a good player and all the men of the squad recognize this fact.

The line-up for Janeville will be as follows: Hazen, le; Wildman, lt; Brown, lg; MacDonald, c; Palmer or Mott, rg; Edler, rt; Zillman, re; Green, qb; Williams, lh; Korst, rh; Ryan, fb.

NORTH-WESTERN TO HAVE TWO YARDMASTERS IN JANESEVILLE

Because of the fact that it has been extremely difficult for one yardmaster to take care of the local and through traffic, it has been decided to have two yardmasters in this city. Although the name of the new man is not known, it has been decided that the present yardmaster, David Griffin, will have charge of the down town yards, including the hot-line and sugar beet work. The new yardmaster will take charge of the work at the new yards. It is expected that the increase in the freight force will be made on the first of next month.

Switch-engine 107, which had a rear driver burned off Wednesday night, will not be sent to the Chicago shops, but will be repaired in Janesville. In place of the rear drivers, a pair of light engine trailers have been put in, which will make the staid old switch look like a high speed engine.

There has been considerable dispute at the freight office with regard to the proper pronunciation of the word "diamonds." THEATRE

"Paid in Full."

Widespread interest has been created by the announcement that Eugene Walter's "Paid in Full" will be seen at the Myers theatre, Saturday, Oct. 30, matinee and evening, with the noted cast direct from the Astor theatre, New York, where this play made the unprecedented record of a third year on Broadway. "Paid in Full" will be welcomed with the enthusiasm so notable an offering merits. People owe it to themselves to keep abreast of the times in matters artistic and literary, and of those the drama is no small part. In seeing "Paid in Full"

there is the happy combination of duty and pleasure derived, for it is entertaining in an exceptional degree, a live, vital story of modern America, so real, so faithful a picture of the world about us, that it seems as if the author had picked up a home and its occupants and placed them on the stage. In its naturalness it is hard to feel it is just a play. In producing this effect Mr. Walter has shown himself a dramatist of rare skill. His play is a masterpiece. No other in the history of the stage has won the popularity this one has earned.

"Everybody who writes, writes to be read, but reporters think less of satisfying themselves than of satisfying the public." Advertisers, take note.

"We keep the quality up and the reason down."

At the end of the article, the author says:

"Paid in Full" is a play that will appeal to all classes of people, and especially to those who appreciate good writing and acting.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

THE wife who conscientiously deserts her husband about once in so often will be the wife whose husband will never have the faintest desire to desert her.

"My mother's having the typhoid fever was one of the best things that ever happened to me," a middle-aged woman who has had an exceptionally happy married life said to me the other day.

"Of course, I don't need to tell you," she went on, "that I didn't think so at that time. But now, when I look back at it across the years, I can see I learned something from that experience that a good deal of the happiness of my married life has been founded on."

"We had been married about two years when mother was taken sick. And in all that time I'd never been away from Henry so much as overnight. He's the helpless sort; you see, and I don't think he could ever get along without me."

"Well, when they found out that mother had the typhoid, I was sent for, and as there wasn't any one else to take charge of things there, I simply had to go."

"I don't know which I felt the worst about, mother's being sick or my having to leave Henry. I could hardly bear to tell him all at once. I expected he'd say he didn't see how he could get along without me and make a terrible fuss."

"Instead of that he said right off that of course I must go and stay just as long as she needed me and not come home until she was entirely well and not worry about home and all that, until finally it came over me that Henry actually didn't feel as I did about my going away. Maybe he was even glad to have me go."

"Well, I was too proud to say anything and I didn't say anything, even when he said goodbye, but it almost broke my heart. I remember how sick I felt over it going down on the train and how those old wheels just seemed to beat out, 'He's glad you're going—He's glad you're going.' I wouldn't take that ride again feeling that for a thousand dollars."

"After I got to mother's I was too busy and worried about her to do much about things at home, and I got through those six weeks somehow. But when I got on the train to go back, what do you think, if those old wheels didn't take up my grievances again, 'He won't be glad to see you—he won't be glad to see you,' they said."

"Well," she drew a long reminiscent breath and a slow smile twinkled at the corners of her lips, "Well, I never saw a gaudier man in all my life. Simpleton as I was ready to be, I couldn't doubt him."

"And those next few weeks, Henry had always been as good as gold to me but it seemed then as if he just couldn't think of enough things to do for me. And as for having me out of his sight—he couldn't stand it."

"I never realized before how much you did for me; he'd keep saying whenever I'd darn his stockings or press some of his ties, or do any of the little things that men are not apt to think just somehow to do themselves, like mending a button or a hole in a shirt."

"Well, that was fifteen years ago, and mother has never absolutely needed me since, but I've made it an iron rule to go away just about once in so often."

"I hate to leave Henry just as much I ever did, and it just makes my heart ache when I think how helpless he's going to be, but I know it's for the best, so I always go."

It's the dark shadows in the beautiful painting that give the high light to their effectiveness.

A realization of the educative value of contrast may be about as valuable a part of a wife's equipment as the ability to make ten kinds of cake or fifteen varieties of pickles.

TIMBER DECAY IS PECULIAR QUESTION

Government is Having Hard Time to Educate the People to Prevent It.

Millions of feet of timber and finished lumber rot every year in railroad ties, bridges, trestles, piles, farm buildings, fences, poles, and mine props. The lumber consuming public of the United States pays perhaps thirty to forty million dollars a year to make good the losses from wood decay.

These great drains are a source of more and more concern each year, Chemists and engineers who have to do with the uses of wood are working incessantly on the problem. The United States forest service has men who devote their whole time to it. The importance of the problem can not be overestimated. Millions of dollars are annually saved by preservative treatment of timbers, but much yet remains to be learned.

Wood decay is caused by fungi, a vegetable growth sometimes so small that it can be seen only with the microscope. Its roots or branchlets, slightly minute hairs, force their way into the wood tissues and absorb or eat away the solid parts. The collapse which results is called decay.

Timber is artificially preserved by forcing into its cells and pores certain substances which prevent the growth of fungi. As long as this substance is present in sufficient quantity, the germs of decay—the threads and spores of fungi—can not enter, and the wood is preserved. This often means doubling and sometimes trebling the life of the timber.

The United States government considers the investigations of the preservative treatment of timber of such importance that the business of one office of the United States forest service, that of wood preservation, with new headquarters at Madison, Wis., is given over entirely to the work of experiments in cooperation with railroad companies and other corporations and individuals in prolonging the life of railroad ties, mine props, bridge timbers, fence posts and transmission poles.

The lengthening of the life of timber means the saving of thousands of dollars annually through doing away with the heavy expense of labor and cost of material for renewals.

A Striking Hat

With the exception of a draped turban, which have, of course, sounded a new note in headwear, there seems to be little change from the hats we had used during the late summer. There is, perhaps, a little more effort toward moderation; slightly smaller crowns, lighter narrower brims and less conspicuous trimming. And indeed with these large shapes the confectioner shopkeeper will find many truly elegant chapeaux which are perhaps a hopeful sign for the future. A striking original hat is pictured above; this was of black satin, with a big quill-like plume of white held by a bow of black velvet, for its sole trimming. For a distance of perhaps half an inch on either side of the outgrowth of the stem, the plume was studded a deep orange—a truly effects touch.

BRITISH SUFFRAGETTES USE ACID AT POLLS

Attempt Made to Destroy Ballot Boxes as Votes Are Taken In London.

London, Oct. 29.—As a protest against the exclusion of women from the right of franchise, Mrs. Chaplin, a suffragette, smashed a bottle containing corrosive acid on the ballot box at the Bermondsey by-election. It was evidently her intention to destroy the tickets contained within the box, but she failed to do and instead succeeded in severely burning some of the election officials and herself.

Slipping into one of the booths where perhaps 1,000 ballots had been deposited Mrs. Chaplin drew from under her cloak a bottle in which ink had been mixed with corrosive acid, and before she could be stopped hurled the bottle upon the box. It broke into many pieces and the flying acid splashed upon the election officers. A number of these were so severely injured as to require medical attention.

About the same time a similar outrage was attempted at another booth by a young girl who wore the suffragette colors. In the latter instance little damage was done beyond the burning of the finger tips of the election officials, who removed the bits of broken glass. So far as could be ascertained no much acid reached the ballot in either case.

Later, in an interview, Mrs. Christina Pankhurst, while deplored the wounding of the officials, asserted with much emphasis:

"It is the government that is responsible. It is the government that drives women to these acts."

COTTON HIGHEST IN 24 YEARS

Patten and Others Clean Up Nice Sum In Four Months.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—James A. Patten, the wheat king, is now a shining light among the cotton kings of New Orleans, who are W. P. Brown, E. G. Seales and Frank Hayne. These four men are credited with having $5,000,000 each as profits as the result of the phenomenal rise in cotton in the last four months. They have operated individually, but have kept in close touch with each other.

Prices are the highest in 24 years. They have practically doubled inside of six months. The southern planters are getting $25 to $30 per bale more than they received last spring.

JUDICIAL INQUIRY IS BEGUN.

Three Judges Probe Into Chicago's Jury Commission's Office.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Public investigation by a committee of three judges into the system of jury drawing and conditions in the office of the Cook county jury commission began in Judge Albert C. Barnes' court room with the sensational report of the October grand jury, which is now officially spread upon the records of the criminal court of Cook county as the towering factor overshadowing all others therein. When Judge Barnes, Honore and Rhauker, who constitute the special judicial tribunal of inquiry into the jury commission office conditions and system, started to take up the preliminaries of their task they found that Judge Tutilli, who received the grand jury report, had arranged that the document, which is the first one of its kind in the history of Cook county courts, be presented to them and made the basis upon which the hearing is to be conducted.

Play of the jury commissioners' office and its system as relate to fraud, violations of the law and gross irregularities stirred both the bench and bar and officials of the Chicago bar association moved to have that organization take official cognizance of it.

FIVE KILLED IN INDIAN FIGHT.

Battle Between Braves and Half-Breeds Result of Food.

San Francisco, Oct. 29.—The story of a remarkable feud between Indians and half-breeds in the mountains of Humboldt county was revealed in the arrest of James Donnelly, a half-breed Klamath Indian, for murder.

The feud started ten years ago, after the accidental drowning of the little son of Jimmie James, an Indian. The boy had been playing with two Indian girls, see-sawing on a limb of a tree overhanging a creek, but slipped into the water. The father of the boy demanded that one of the girls should be given to him as a slave to recompense him for the death of the boy, but the demand was refused and the boy died.

Highways.

With the announcement that the road committee of the state legislature would be in Janesville on November 5th to hold a conference with the members of the county board and others interested in the good road movement it might be well to review the work already done in the county since the first law which made county work possible in 1907.

In this connection, a bit of history on the evolution of the road building in Rock county will be interesting. The legislature of 1905 passed the law which provided for road building by which towns could petition the county for aid, immediately the towns of Beloit and Bradford at the May meeting of the County Board in 1906, petitioned for money to be used in improving highways. That was according to chapter 210 of the laws of 1905.

The town of Beloit petitioned for $600 and the town of Bradford petitioned for $800. These petitions were laid upon the table for the reason that they were not filed in conformity to law, so that nothing was done that year. Then the towns began to appreciate the opportunities of the new law.

At the May meeting of 1907, the following towns petitioned for county aid: Beloit, $1,000; Milton, $300; Center, $500; Bradford, $800; Plymouth, $400; Fulton, $500; Harmony, $800; Clinton, $1,000, making $10,400 used that year for improving highways.

Under this law the chairman of the County Board appointed a committee of two to co-operate with the chairman of the several towns asking for highway funds. This was the beginning of the present system which is now being operated on the highways of Rock county and was practically the beginning of the public highways system in the state of Wisconsin.

At the May meeting of the County Board of 1908, the county board organized its road work under the new law created by the last session known as chapter 487 of the laws in 1907. This law provides for the office of Supervisor of Highways, and the conditions were practically the same as the other laws, that is to say, the town paid one-half of the cost, and the county the other half. Under this law the county levied a tax of $15,000, of which 10 per cent is held for future improvements and the balance is apportioned to the several townships in accordance with their petitions. The following towns voted for help in 1907:

Magnolia, $625; Beloit, $1,000; Union, $700; Clinton, $1,000; Turtle, $500; Milton, $100; Bradford, $1,000; Johnstown, $1,000; Center, $900; Janesville, $625; Newark, $550; Plymouth, $1,000; Harmony, $700.

In the May meeting of 1909, the following towns applied for county aid of public highways.

Center, $700; Union, $725; Rock, $500; Plymouth, $1,000; Magnolia, $1,000; Bradford, $1,000; Clinton, $1,000; Newark, $800; Milton, $800; Avalon, $600; Beloit, $1,000; Janesville, $625; Harmony, $700; Turtle, $1,000; Town of Porter, $625.

Under the existing law named in chapter 487, the building of roads is left to the discretion of the townships. It is the judgment of the Rock County Board that the county is the better judge of how much money they care to raise and spend upon the respective highways. At the may meeting of 1908, the county purchased all necessary equipment, including road rollers and placed them in the hands of Supervisor of Highways H. L. Skavlen.

Scalp and Hair Troubles Generally Caused by Carelessness.

Dandruff is a contagious disease caused by a microbe which also produces baldness. Never use a comb or brush belonging to some one else. No matter how cleanly the owner may be, these articles may be infected with microbes, which will infect your scalp. It is far easier to catch hair microbes than it is to get rid of them, and a single stroke of an infected comb or brush may well lead to baldness. Never try on anybody else's hat. [REFERRAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Just at this time there are two examples of what might be accomplished by the work of a good, first-class secretary of a business men's association in promoting the interests of Janesville. The dispatches announced that Morgan and Walsh have combined their railroad holdings and propose a road from Winnipeg to the gulf, owing belt lines around Chicago, and thence through Rockford, Beloit to Milwaukee, and thence to Portage where they would tap the Wisconsin Central and then the Soo Line. Janesville is not on this survey and if Janesville business men want to secure the benefits that would be derived from such a road they could turn the matter over to their secretary who would handle the matter entirely and satisfactorily for the benefit of the city.

Another example of what might come in his line of work is the fact that the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road is considering the running of one of its fast trains to St. Paul and Minneapolis through Janesville. This has been talked of before, but in the matter was presented to the officials of the road in the proper light, the work of a secretary, they would doubtless consider the matter more favorably.

There is plenty of work for a secretary to do and the necessity of such an official is daily becoming more and more imperative. The business men who are interested in raising the funds necessary for employing such a man have already secured $3,500 of the amount needed and would be glad to hear from persons who have not contributed. The time for a campaign of publicity of Janesville's advantages can not be taken up better than just at present and all are urged to subscribe to the funds needed for this work.

Sarah Thoen of Madison.

[REFERRAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Monroe, Wis., Oct. 29.—Announcements have been received here of the marriage of Mrs. Sarah Thoen of Madison, to Mr. Harvey P. Clawson, of this city, at the First Presbyterian church in New York City. Rev. Dr. Smith performing the ceremony. The bride and groom left at once for Springfield, Mass., where the groom is located in charge of construction work for the Westinghouse, Church, Kerr company. His headquarters is New York, where they will make their home. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leuris Thoen, 415 North Henry St., Madison. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Clawson, of this city, and he met his bride while attending the university at Madison, both being graduates of that institution. Since his graduation in 1902 he has been with the Westinghouse company.

The investigation into charges made against the Mendota hospital by Monroe parties, continued all day yesterday. The examination is being conducted by Judge Cowle, of the state board of control, F. W. Schell, Mattoon, Ill.; Chas. E. Shriver, Dr. W. H. Morris, and District Attorney W. H. McGrath were among those who were called upon to testify. The latter is authority for the statement that the board is making a full and impartial investigation and shows a decided tendency to go to the bottom of the charges.

May Raise Taxes.

It is likely that the property owners of the city will have to face a two per cent tax. The rate will be fixed by the council following the levy made by the board of supervisors, which meets week after next. The city has been compelled to raise a much larger sum than last year on account of special levies, interest on waterworks bonds, increased school taxes, etc.

John Elmer has sold his farm of 10 acres, located three and one-half miles north of Monroe to Edward Drummey for $30,000.

A hunting dog owned by Hobbs, hunting of this city was shot by a hunter by the name of Nelson, living two or three miles south of South Wayne. Arthur Drake, of Cluny, had the dog with him while hunting. It is said that Nelson shot his dog or nine dogs. Mr. Drake has gone to Darlington, where he will have a warrant issued for Nelson.

Milkman Pays Fine.

C. McNitt, of Darlington, pleaded guilty before Justice J. H. Clary at Darlington, to a charge of selling skimmed milk with less than 3 per cent butter fat. He was fined $25 and costs.

If you happen to be troubled with dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair or baldness, we have a remedy which we believe will completely relieve these troubles. We are so sure of it that we offer it to you with the understanding that it will cost you nothing for the trial if it does not produce the results we claim. This remedy is called Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We honestly believe it to be the most excellent remedy for scalp and hair troubles, and we know of nothing else that equals it for effectiveness, because of the results it has produced in thousands of cases.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is devised to banish dandruff, restore natural color when its loss has been brought about by disease, and make the hair naturally silky, soft and glossy. It does this because it stimulates the hair follicles, destroys the germ matter, and brings about a free, healthy circulation of blood, which nourishes the hair roots, causing them to tighten and grow new hair. We want everybody who has any trouble with hair or scalp to know that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is the best hair tonic and restorative in existence, and no one should scoff at or doubt this statement until they have put our claims to a fair test, with the understanding that they do not give full and complete satisfaction in every particular. "Never mind the past now," Emma. Think how happy you are!"

"I know. It is good to be living once again, but the best of it all is that Joe has succeeded. Even mother admits it. Think of it!"

"She even likes him," confided Beth.

"My dear, you know that mother likes most any one who has healthy indications of a bank account."

"Emma," chided the girl, "you ought to be ashamed!"

"I'm not," laughed her sister. "I'm too contented. I don't think that I shall ever forget the night nearly seven weeks ago, when Joe came home with the good news, 'he's safer' more than tripled and six months' back pay."

"Joe never thought Captain Williams would do it for him."

"No, nor I. And the way it was done! You know the captain and Jimay had been gone three days before Joe knew the good news."

"When are they coming back? Not for a month anyway?"

"Joe says he doesn't know."

"Isn't it funny that with all his luck he doesn't seem contented?"

Emma became grave.

"It's worried, poor deuce, and I can't make it out," she said. "Perhaps he's so flustered to succeed in his new position?"

In the parlor Mrs. Harris sat fanning herself, for it was a very warm day. She was dressed in a gown of summer flattery that would have been most suitable to her had she been, say, fifteen years younger, and she was engaged in her usual pleasant occupation of criticizing—or "knocking" as Joe called it.

Brooks was in dinner coat and bore other external evidences of his prosperity, which, however, was being purchased at considerable physical cost, for he had become thinner and was pale and haggard. The worry his new position occasioned him was plain to be seen, and he was in an exasperably sulky mood and as nervous as the proverbial cat.

"As I was saying to Joe," observed Mrs. Harris, turning to Emma and Beth, "for a hotel of this character the coffee is not what it might be. It's terrible bitter. Otherwise I liked the

Wireless Cure For Rheumatism

Electric Current From Electrodes Proves An Astonishing Remedy For Rheumatism and Other Diseases.

Now Within Reach of Every Sufferer.

You hear no click, you feel no current, yet with increasing power a gentle healing, soothing, restoring current is sent into every fibre, nerve, vessel and organ of the body, causing a remarkable new discovery called "Electropathy."

Proofs of the results of Electropathy in cases of rheumatism, especially, and of nervous afflictions and organic disorders, have caused a transformation in the medical world. Proofs are also different from those of other electric appliances, since they create no current except while they are actually in service. The current generated has been found to have an astonishing effect on blood circulation and the kidneys, thus aiding in the cure of diseases such as well known, back pains, kidney trouble, stomach and liver complaints, nervous prostration, weak nerves, headaches and weak heart.

Electropathy in appearance are peculiar metalized insulators so placed in the body and end of the shock as to be unnoticeable to the wearer. They never cause discomfort. No medical or temporary drug treatment is used or needed. Right from the start the system of electrotherapy creates health.

The most remarkable are the results of these Electropathies that are now being sold under a legal binding signed contract with each purchaser to give quick relief and entire satisfaction.

"Is Captain Williams with him?" inquired Mrs. Harris.

"I don't know," answered Emma. "I wonder what brings him back? He wasn't expected for a month or six weeks."

"I suppose he's with him," surmised Beth.

Her mother expressed the hope that he was.

"So do I," said Emma. "I want to thank him for Joe's raise."

"You'll do nothing of the kind!" exploded Brooks furiously. "I want you all to understand here and now that my business is my business. I don't want it discussed with either Smith or Williams. What I've got I've got, and it is nobody's affair but mine. Now, if any of you have got anything to say about me or what I do, say it to me or shut up."

"Joe, how can you?" reproached his wife, taken completely aback by this savage and uncalled for display of anger.

BONANO

Drink It Because It's So Good

THERE is nothing strange about taking the meat of choiceest Tropic-ripened bananas, roasting it, granulating it, and making from it a hot table beverage.

Not so unusual, when you come to think of it, as taking the bitter coffee berry—poisonous in its natural state—roasting and grinding it and serving it as a hot drink.

We of America have our coffee, tea, cocoa, chocolate, and now our BONANO. Is there any reason to presume that BONANO—made from the most delicious fruit that grows—may not be the best hot drink, better than those you have been accustomed to? It is, and we want you to know it.

We want you to enjoy its tempting aroma, its spicy, appetizing flavor. We want you to see how it strengthens, nourishes and refreshes.

Drink BONANO for its own delicious goodness. That's enough reason. And you will feel better for drinking it, too. Let the children have all the BONANO they want. There's nothing in it that can harm them—much that will do them good.

BONANO—pure and clean—handled in a sanitary way from the time the luscious, naturally ripened fruit is picked until you open the sealed package in your own home—is sold by your grocer.

A 25-cent can of BONANO makes 75 cups of the best hot drink you ever tasted. For sale by

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, October 29, 1869.—Handsome Presentation. The scholars attending the High School at the present time, desiring to express their appreciation of Prof. Smith, today presented him with a beautiful silver ice pitcher, salver and goblets. They have become very much attached to the Professor, and exceedingly regret his resignation. We have no doubt that the recipient of the beautiful testimonial will appreciate most fully not only the articles themselves but the sentiment which prompted their bestowal. That he has had the best interests of his scholars at heart is apparent; not only to the donors of this present, but to those who know how faithfully he has labored for the advancement of his pupils. It was a handsome thing to do, on the part of those who made the presentation.

Sent To The Reform School.—A boy by the name of Henry Hall was complained of by his father, before Justice Hudson, yesterday, for incorrigibility. He had become completely unmanageable, and the parent very sensibly thought it would be a good thing to put him where he would be compelled to obey somebody. The case was heard last evening and the boy was sentenced to the Reform School whither he was taken this morning.

Installation.—The Rev. Lyman Whiting, D. D., was last evening installed as pastor of the Congregation.

CHALLENGE

We challenge anyone to produce a case of ECZEMA or other Skin Disease that DR. TAYLOR'S ECZEMA REMEDY will not cure.

TORTURED BY ULCERS!

August 25, 1908.
Gentlemen:—For two years I suffered with ECZEMA on hands, feet and legs, and could not get a pair of shoes on, as my feet and legs were completely covered with ulcers. Last April I concluded to go to the hospital, and on my way fortunately met a friend who was cured by your remedy, and he urged me to go and see you, which I did. I bought one set of your remedy, which gave me instant relief, and after using five sets was completely cured. I state these facts trusting they may come under the notice of some one similarly afflicted, as from experience I know that there is no other remedy to cure this dreadful disease. J. Carl, 2621 Carp Street, Philadelphia.

DAILY DIET HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN
Food Specialist.

ENJOYING A MEAL.

Don't think while you eat. Enjoy eating as you enjoy music, subjectively. Study is necessary to the full enjoyment of music, but not while the music is being rendered. The birds sing by instinct better than a grand opera star sings by art, but that argues not against art but in favor of spontaneity. All eating was at first by instinct, just as music was, but to "take no thought" about singing or playing would not improve its quality. To take no thought, to worry not, about "what ye shall eat!" is as good as to take no thought "wherewithal ye shall be clothed." We have lost our instincts, to a large extent, and even as a natural singer may improve by art so may instinctive eating be improved by reason. To engage in pleasant conversation or to read light literature is good as preventative of that deeper thinking or worrying which Shakespeare says gives "a lean and hungry look."

NEXT YEAR.

Dr. Cook: In about two years more I think I will find my two Eskimos, then I will take them to the United States, and we'll all climb Mount McKinley.

ENOUGH.

Waiter—Will you take anything more, sir, before you go?

McSwell—I'll not take any more. I'm in a new lodging, and I dinna ken very well the stair.

Not One Drop of Alcohol In This

The endorsement of your doctor will certainly greatly increase your confidence in Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a family laxative. Liver pills. All vegetables. Ask your doctor about them.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a tonic and alterative, free from alcohol. What is a "tonic"? A medicine that imparts strength or tone; a medicine that builds up, gives vigor and power. What is an "alterative"? A medicine that alters or changes unhealthy action to healthy action. Ayer's Sarsaparilla does all this without stimulation. Never take a medicine your own doctor cannot endorse.
